SCREENING MAMMOGRAPHY REPORT

[REDACTED] named you as her primary care provider when she registered for the Breast Screening Program. I am pleased to inform you that the radiologist who examined her mammogram did not detect any significant abnormality and recommends that she return in 1 year for her next mammogram. A letter is being sent to [REDACTED] to inform her of this.

The Breast Screening Program reports your patient's breast density category in her screening mammogram result letters. Her screening mammogram showed that her breast density is in Category C, which means her breasts are heterogeneously dense. She has some areas of dense tissue in her breasts. Dense breast tissue can hide cancers on a mammogram.

Not all cancers can be seen on a mammogram. It is also important to encourage your patients to know what is normal for their breasts and to notify you right away if they notice any unusual changes in their breasts before their next screening visit.

If there are symptoms suggestive of breast cancer, then further investigation is warranted even if the most recent screening mammogram was negative. Please fax a requisition to 902-473-3959 or 1-866-470-3959 for further assessment.

If you have any questions about the breast screening program, your patient's mammogram results, or would like information, please call the Nova Scotia Breast Screening Program at 902-473-3960 or 1-800-565-0548.
